K.G. Koppal underbridge to be widened by 100 feet

MP asks Railways to do a survey; widening to ease traffic congestion, improve connectivity

Mysuru, Sept. 6 (BLU&BCT)- The K.G. Koppal underbridge is set to undergo a significant expansion, spanning an additional 100 feet. This expansion aims to address the perennial traffic congestion issues while simultaneously enhancing connectivity to various localities through the underbridge.

Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha conducted an inspection of the underbridge this morning, accompanied by officials from the South Western Railway's (SWR) Mysuru Division. During the inspection, he instructed the Officers to conduct a survey and prepare a Detailed Project Report (DPR) for this vital infrastructure enhancement.

Currently, the underbridge spans 50 feet and is a major bottleneck, especially during peak traffic hours. The underbridge serves as a crucial link connecting several extensions, including Jayanagar, Kuvempunagar, K.G. Koppal, Saraswathipuram, Ramakrishnanagar, Dattagalli, Lakshmipuram and other areas in old Mysuru. It witnesses heavy daily usage by commuters.

Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha inspecting the K.G. Koppal underbridge in city this morning.

Pratap Simha highlighted that the 100-foot expansion would necessitate a comprehensive survey or study to assess both road and train traffic along the route. This assessment is measured using an international metric known as Train Vehicle Unit (TVU). The TVU is calculated by multiplying the total number of trains passing through in a day by total number of road vehicles.

Simha elaborated, "Widening requires appropriate support structures below and the TVU analysis will provide insights into the nature of support required to ensure smooth train passage above and traffic flow below."

Regarding the proposed construction of an underbridge near Crawford Hall, specifically at the level crossing near Kukkarahalli Lake, Simha estimated the project's cost at Rs. 40 crore, with the possibility of increased costs once work commences. He suggested that the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA), given its proximity to the project, could provide funding.

Simha noted that MUDA had cited fund constraints, as the State Government is already allocating resources for fulfilling pre-poll promises. He expressed concerns that this situation might hinder overall development efforts.

Judge on leave: SC to hear Cauvery dispute on Sept. 21

New Delhi, Sept. 6 (Agencies)- The Cauvery water sharing dispute between Karnataka and Tamil Nadu came up for hearing in the Supreme Court (SC) this morning and the hearing has been postponed to Sept. 21.

The hearing of the case was scheduled before a two-Judge Bench of Justice B.R. Gavai and Justice P.S. Narasimha. Since fellow Judge Justice P.S. Narsimha is on leave, the case has been scheduled for hearing on Sept. 21.

The Farmer's Association from Tamil Nadu also filed an application regarding the dispute — seeking more water from Karnataka — and even this plea will be heard on Sept. 21

as per the information provided by Justice Gavai.

The Judges informed the lawyers of Karnataka and Tamil Nadu that they will not be available next week. While Justice Narasimha is presently on leave, Justice Gavai will not be available next week. If the lawyers want a new Bench to hear the case, they can approach the Chief Justice, Justice Gavai said.

Responding to this, the advocates from Tamil Nadu told the Court that it was better if the present Bench (Justice Gavai and Justice Narsimha) heard the State plea. Consenting to this, Justice Gavai posted the hearing for Sept. 21.

Tamil Nadu Government had approached the Supreme Court seeking direction to Karnataka to release 24,000 cusecs (cubic feet per second) of water daily per day from the reservoirs in Karnataka. Karnataka Government had also filed an affidavit last week opposing Tamil Nadu's application saying that it is based on an assumption that this year is the normal rain water year. As per the directions of Cauvery Water Management Authority (CWMA), Karnataka has released a total of 1,49,898 cusecs of water at Biligundlu from Aug. 12 to Aug. 26.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Nature is one of the best teachers we have around us. She imparts so many life lessons that drive home valuable pointers. She speaks to us silently, shows and doesn't actually tell, in a myriad ways. This is what came home to me yet again this summer as I watched our mango tree. It was one of many trees that my grandmother had planted and selflessly so, for she didn't expect to be around when the tree took root and started yielding fruits.

Over the years we have had seasons in which the yield was generous and others in which it wasn't so. During good years we learnt to share the fruit with others who couldn't afford to buy this delicacy. After all there is only so much tree owners can eat. This year with some effort I identified at least half a dozen NGOs with whom we could share the fruits and the very act of doing so gave the family so much joy. A few batches were donated to the Shirdi Sai Baba temple for use in their daily Annadhana cooking and at a pooja for the padukas of Swami Samarth.

What we humans get to eat is what is left, after the birds, squirrels and insects have had their fill. As night falls there is the steady sound of mangoes falling to the ground nudged by the breeze or other creatures. These were collected in the morning and spread out over sheets of paper or jute inside a carton, no hay these days. The mangoes needed careful tending. Every single day one had to check on the fruits to see how they were doing and remove the ones about to rot. A day missed, thanks to life throwing one off track, meant there was a price to pay.

Every mango, we learnt, didn't ripen to perfection. Even if it looked absolutely well-formed to start with, it sometimes turned black or brown in parts and ripened unevenly. Those mangoes were probably meant to go back to the soil and enrich it and weren't really wasted in the end. There was a purpose to every single fruit.

Climatic surprises like unseasonal rains or a cyclone disturbed the growth cycle of the fruit. As the season draws to an end one is grateful for the lessons learnt and humbled by the realisation that nothing is under the total control of humans.

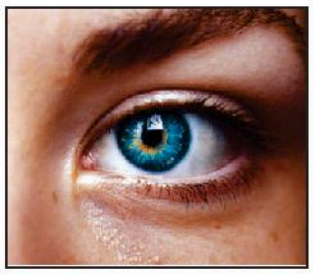
Bride marries father-in-law after groom flees

Jakarta: After an Indonesian groom disappeared on his wedding day, his father assumed responsibility and married the bride just so the expensive event would not be cancelled.

What was supposed to be the happiest day in one Indonesian woman's life quickly turned into a humiliating nightmare after her husband-to-be disappeared right on their wedding day.

The young woman, identified only as SA , hails from the village of Jikotamo, South Halmahera and was said to be in a long-term relationship with the groom. However, on Aug. 29, on the day of their wedding, the man ran away, leaving her to explain to the guests that the wedding was off. This was apparently considered inconceivable by both families, as the wedding preparations had cost a small fortune, and the dowry had already been settled, so the groom's father stepped in and married SA.

Procedure that allows to change eye colour



New York: Ever wish your eyes were blue or green? You can simply have your own eyes permanently tattooed.

Originally developed as a way of dealing with patients suffering from disfiguring corneal opacities, keratopigmentation, aka 'corneal tattooing', has seen a boost among people seeking a mere aesthetic change. Safely changing eye colour has long been an impossible dream, but today there are actually several types of procedures that allow you to do just this.

Nowadays, it's all about kaeratopigmentation, a seemingly safe procedure that uses advanced machinery and biologically compatible pigments to permanently change eye colour.

ISRO: Nation's pride and a great ray of hope

Sir,

It is heartening to note that Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) has begun one more mission successfully, this time to carry out studies pertaining to the Sun.

ISRO has been able to achieve success to the extent no other organisation working under the Government has ever been able to because of a few ethical norms that ISRO has adhered to throughout its journey.

Having had a brief association with the organisation (I was the Principal Investigator of a research project financed by ISRO at NIE, Mysuru), I feel it befitting to list the following as the principles ISRO adheres strictly to:

1. Discipline: The employees are totally duty-bound and follow the rules scrupulously.

2. Work Ethics: Work to the best of one's abilities and with love.

3. Punctuality: Keep up to the schedules and achieve targets indelibly.

4. Financial Control: Absolutely no extravagant spending.

I also understand that ISRO discourages hierarchical discrimination and motivates its employees by duly awarding extraordinary performances.

It is indeed a wonder how a Government undertaking in this nation, where corruption and non-governance form a very common feature of the public enterprise, has long been able to sustain the compulsions of the society and its leaders.

It is fortunate that ISRO has treaded a different path and the fruits are there to see. ISRO is not only the nation's pride, it is a great ray of hope too!

KSRTC student pass duration extended till October

Mysuru, Sept. 6 (TRR) - In the wake of non-completion of examinations for the academic year 2022-23 in various Colleges of the State, the KSRTC has extended the duration of student bus passes till October.

Earlier, passes were extended without charging any money. But now students need to pay for the use of student passes in the month of September and October, say KSRTC officials.

Examinations of Graduate, Post Graduate, Engineering, Law, B. Pharma and other students have not yet been completed. In this backdrop, student passes duration was extended earlier for the months of July and August. But some Colleges are yet to complete examinations and there were requests from the student community to extend the duration of bus passes. Hence, KSRTC has responded positively to this and has asked the students to renew their passes after obtaining details of examination dates from their Colleges, said the KSRTC General Manager (Traffic).

But the students need to produce their old passes and pay for the renewal, he said.

Work in tandem to ensure a grand, smooth Dasara

District Minister says Rs. 30 crore will be released for festivities; a facelift for city

Mysuru, Sept. 6 (SBD&BCT)- Encouraging collaboration among officers and staff from various departments to ensure that this year's Dasara becomes an exceptional and memorable event, District Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa said that his vision for the festival is that it must reflect the grandeur of the Vijayanagar Empire Dasara. He said that the committees will be planned and formed soon along with event planning.

Addressing officers at the Mysore Palace Board after welcoming the first batch of elephants to the Mysore Palace, the Minister stressed the importance of elevating the Dasara Festival.

This festival, which serves as a showcase of our region's rich art, culture and traditions, is poised to transform into a grand celebration that captivates people's hearts. Dr. Mahadevappa urged all the committees to work harmoniously and organise interesting and engaging events, ensuring the grand success of the Dasara festival.

He further announced that the State Government would soon release Rs. 30 crore, which will facilitate a significant facelift for the city, including the asphalting of roads in the Central Business District. The Minister expressed his intention to personally inspect the city before commencing the Dasara-related civic works.

With thousands of tourists expected to flock from all over the country and abroad to partake in the Dasara festivities, Dr. Mahadevappa emphasised the proactive role of all committees in showcasing the State's heritage, art and the Government's historical initiatives to the visitors.

The forthcoming celebrations promise to be grand and impeccably organised. The District Administration, Police and the Palace Board have been assigned specific responsibilities for meticulous arrangements.

Preference to local talent

In the realm of cultural programmes, the Minister advocated for recognising and prioritising local talented artistes, giving them a prominent platform to shine. Diverse art forms, including music, drama and dance, should be thoughtfully organised to cater to art enthusiasts' enjoyment.

Dr. Mahadevappa underscored the need to attract and engage the youth actively in Yuva Dasara. He underlined the importance of maintaining clean and hygienic food stalls that offer delicious fare. The enchanting flower and fruit exhibition, which appeals to all, should be orchestrated with meticulous beauty, featuring artistic creations crafted from a variety of flowers and fruits to captivate visitors.

In preparation for Dasara, the city's thorough cleaning, with a special focus on roads and event venues, was deemed essential. A dedicated team working in two shifts, day and night, will ensure everything is prepared on time, he added.

Speaking to reporters before the meeting, the Minister said that Mysuru Dasara, a festival deeply rooted in the region's traditions and the grandeur of Vijayanagara heritage, will be celebrated with great discipline and significance.

To prepare for the festival, daily training sessions will be conducted for the elephants within the Palace premises and on the streets. 'Let out Dasara Exhibition Grounds for marriages, religious functions'

Mysuru, Sept. 6 (DM)- District Brahmins Association President D.T. Prakash has suggested that the Dasara Exhibition Grounds, located at the heart of the city, should be made available for hosting weddings, religious conventions and other significant events. His remarks came after participating in the rituals during Shravana Shanivara at Sri Veeranjaneyaswamy Temple within the Karnataka Exhibition Authority (KEA) premises.

Highlighting the historical significance of the Veeranjaneyaswamy Temple, which was constructed in 1840 in memory of Rajaguru Veene Venkatakrishnaiah by his wife, Prakash mentioned historical records that indicate the Dasara Exhibition Grounds were previously used as a venue for numerous weddings and other functions.

He noted that the then Mysuru Maharaja generously donated 80 acres of Doddakere Maidan for the Dasara Exhibition in 1975-76, moving it from the J.K. Grounds. The exhibition during that period was overseen by notable figures like D.T.S. Rao, F.K. Irani and Subbarao.

Subsequently, in 1980, Chief Minister R. Gundurao established the Karnataka Exhibition Authority (KEA), which continues to operate today. Prakash expressed his desire for the Authority to make the Dasara Exhibition Grounds available for weddings and other ceremonies at affordable rates for the benefit of the public.

MLA T.S. Srivatsa highlighted the presence of many Veeranjaneyaswamy Gudis along Raja Kaluves in the old Mysuru region.

He explained the purpose behind establishing such Gudis and urged authorities to consider renting out the Dasara Exhibition Grounds for weddings and other events during the non-Dasara season.

KEA CEO Rajesh Gowda, Superintendent Venkatesh, Manager Nandakumar, as well as leaders M.A. Mohan, Jogi Manju, Naveen, Srinidhi, Vikram Iyengar, Ajay Shastri, K.M. Nishanth, Chakrapani and Temple Priests Phaneesh, Prahlad, Visweshwar Bhat and others were present.

Meanwhile, the Forest officials have warned the villagers not to venture to agricultural field alone till the tiger was captured and about 30 cages have been placed at various spots to trap the tiger.

Deputy Conservator of Forests (DCF) Harshakumar Chikkanaragunda, Chief Conservator of Forests (CCF) Kumar Pushkar and other Forest Officers and staff took part in the combing operation.

Meanwhile, Kumar Nayak, a resident of Kallahatti village, where the tiger had killed the boy, informed that the villagers saw the tiger, which had killed the boy, killing and dragging a cow belonging to one Jayamma of Siddapur village into the Forest, which has created fear among the villagers.

It may be recalled that following the death of Charan, hundreds of angry villagers had staged a protest by keeping the body at the protest spot. They also expressed their anger on Forest officials.

Inspector Shabbir Hussain lends shoulder during last rites

The last rites of Charan Nayak, who was killed by the tiger on Monday was held at Kallahatti village yesterday, during which H.D. Kote Circle Inspector Shabbir Hussain lent his shoulder when the body of Charan was taken in a procession to conduct last rites.

But the non presence of Forest Department officials and staff during last rites has disappointed the villagers, who expressed anger on the Forest Department.

City Cong. leaders submit list of works done by CM Siddharamaiah for Mysuru to MP Pratap Simha's PA

As a precaution, Police barricade main gate of Jaladarshini Guest House, MP's Office

Mysuru, Sept. 6 (GA&BS)- Tension prevailed for sometime at Jaladarshini Guest House on Hunsur Road in city this morning, as hundreds of Congress workers, led by KPCC Spokesperson M. Lakshmana, made a vain bid to barge into the Guest House, where the Office of Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha is located.

Chief Minister Siddharamaiah, during the inauguration of redeveloped Al-Badr Circle at Udayagiri here recently, had called upon the electorates not to elect Mysuru - Kodagu MP Pratap Simha to the Parliament again.

Reacting to the call, Simha had sought CM Siddharamaiah to specify the reasons as to why he should be defeated while accusing the latter of lacking in vision to develop Mysuru.

This had turned into a political slugfest with Lakshmana recently announcing that he would submit a list of development works along with relevant documents to disprove MP Simha's posers to Siddharamaiah, on Sept. 6 (today).

Sensing trouble, Police had made elaborate security arrangements at the main gate of Jaladarshini Guest House, which has the Office of MP Pratap Simha within its precincts.

KPCC Spokesperson M. Lakshmana (third from left) is seen along with other Congress leaders in front of Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha's Office where they submitted the list of contributions by CM Siddharamaiah to Mysuru to the MP's Personal Assistant in the absence of the MP.

When the Congress workers led by Lakshmana insisted that they be let in, Police, who initially turned down their request, later allowed only Lakshmana and three other leaders — City Congress President R. Murthy, Rural Congress President Dr. B.J. Vijaykumar and former Zilla Panchayat President B.M. Ramu — to visit the MP's Office.

Lakshmana handed over a set of documents in the form of booklet along with photo-graphic documents to MP Simha's Personal Assistant (PA) in the absence of the MP, to substantiate the development works taken up by CM Siddharamaiah in Mysuru, during his previous tenure as CM between 2013 and 2018.

Lakshmana also told MP's PA to inform his boss that "Within three days, he (MP) should come for an open debate at any suitable place."

As a precautionary measure, Police had erected barricades around MP's Office too, situated to the left of main building of Jaladarshini Guest House.

DCP (Law and Order) M. Muthuraj visited the spot.

Railway Minister to open new works in Mysuru region: MP

Remodelled Ashokapuram Station, additional works at Belagola and Inland Container Depot at Kadakola

Mysuru, Sept. 6 (RK&BCT)- Railway Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw will be invited to inaugurate the revamped Ashokapuram Railway Station, the Inland Container Depot at Kadakola constructed by the Container Corporation of India Ltd (CONCOR) and the completed development works at Belagola Railway Station, where two additional pit lines have been constructed.

This announcement was made by Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha during the 'Gati Shakthi' meeting of Railway Officers at Jaladarshini Guest House here yesterday. "We will discuss the inauguration with the Railway Ministry and a virtual inauguration too is being contemplated in case the Minister is unable to come to Mysuru. The date will be finalised for their inauguration after consultations," the MP said.

Simha also shared updates on the ongoing development at Mysore Railway Station, which has been allocated a budget of Rs. 356 crore for yard remodelling and expansion. The station works are currently in the tendering process. The MP noted that the work is in progress, with tender openings scheduled for Sept. 13. The foundation for this project was laid by Prime Minister Narendra Modi in June 2022.

Furthermore, there is a proposal to convert the single lane between City Railway Station and Ashokapuram Railway Station into a double lane. The Railways will conduct a survey, prepare a Detailed Project Report (DPR) and expedite the work accordingly, addressing the traffic bottleneck along this route.

Simha emphasised that the entire stretch beyond Mysuru Junction towards Nanjangud and Chamarajanagar operates as a single-line track, contributing to traffic congestion. Doubling the track till Ashokapuram will significantly alleviate this bottleneck and allow for the extension of more train services to Ashokapuram Station.

The Inland Container Depot will enhance manufacturing and export capabilities in the region, while the expansion of Ashokapuram Railway Station will alleviate congestion at Mysuru Junction and enable the operation of additional services.

The MP mentioned that most of the civil works of the Inland Container Depot are nearing completion and the depot is expected to be ready for inauguration after Sept. 15. This facility is the second of its kind in Karnataka and is being developed at an approximate cost of Rs. 100 crore.

The expanded facilities at Ashokapuram, worth Rs. 30 crore, including two new stabling lines, two pit lines, two new platforms and a second entrance from the Jayanagar side, will pave the way for the introduction of new services while easing the pressure on Mysuru Junction.

Senior Railway officials, including Ravichandran, Senior Divisional Engineer (Coordination), T.V. Bhushan, Gati Shakti Unit head and others, were present during the meeting.

K.G. Koppal Underbridge

The underbridge at the level crossing of the Mysuru-Nanjangud railway track, running behind Crawford Hall and adjacent to Kukkarahalli Lake, holds significant potential benefits for Mysuru's residents.

MP Simha underlined that if the State Government takes up the project, it could substantially improve the daily commute experience for motorists, who currently face extended wait times at level crossings.

Many trains operating between Mysuru, Nanjangud and Chamarajanagar often halt on this track section behind Crawford Hall, primarily due to delays at the City Railway Station, underscoring the urgency of the project's execution.

Minister Tangadagi objects to delay in works of Backward Classes Dept.

Mysuru, Sept. 6 (PM&BS)- Kannada and Culture Minister Shivaraj Tangadagi, who also holds the Backward Classes Welfare Department portfolio, has directed officers not to delay the implementation of works.

During a meeting with officers of the Backward Classes Welfare Department at the Zilla Panchayat auditorium here on Monday, he emphasised the need to expedite the process of implementing schemes.

Specifically, he stressed that the consent of respective MLAs must be obtained for the list of beneficiaries under the self-employment and Ganga Kalyana Scheme. This step is crucial to ensure that funds are sanctioned by the end of December and that schemes are implemented within the same year.

He warned of strict action against officers if any middlemen are found involved in schemes such as borewell and direct loan schemes under Ganga Kalyana.

Secretary of the Backward Classes Welfare Department, Tulasi Maddineni, explained that the process of submitting applications has been simplified this year, with an integrated system in place to track progress in each Corporation.

To effectively disseminate information about departmental schemes, the Government plans to publish advertisements in media and use large hoardings at district and taluk centres. A decision on this matter will be made within the week.

District Officer of the Backward Classes Welfare Department in Chamarajanagar discussed the increased demand for post-matric hostels in the district. Although there are 31 hostels in the district, with 26 operating from their own buildings and five in rented buildings, some challenges exist.

Minister Tangadagi expressed disappointment at the low progress rate in drilling borewells during the current year, with only 12 percent progress in loan repayments.

He assured that measures would be taken to fill all vacant posts in the Backward Classes Welfare Department soon.

Foundation laid for Engineering and Medical Student Hostel buildings

Pointing out that the Government is also focusing on construction of student hostels along with these Colleges, he said that the new hostel in Mysuru is being constructed by the Backward Classes Welfare Department at an estimated cost of Rs.3.26 crore. He has directed the agency which has taken up the construction to complete the works within the scheduled time.

MLA T.S. Srivatsa, MLC C.N. Manjegowda, Backward Classes and Minorities Welfare Department Secretary Tulasi Maddineni, Deputy Mayor Dr. G. Roopa, Department's District Officer Raghavendra and other officials were present.

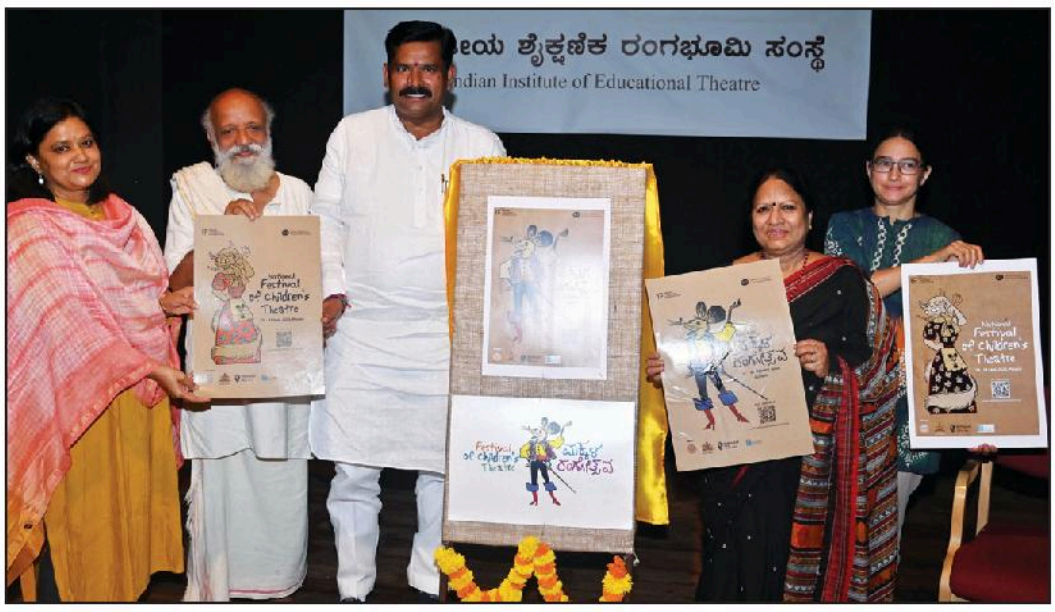
'Indian Institute of Educational Theatre' makes a debut in city

A joint initiative of Indian Theatre Foundation and Hardwicke PU College, with veteran Theatre Director Prasanna being the main driving force



Kannada and Culture Minister Shivaraj Tangadagi inaugurates 'Indian Institute of Educational Theatre' in city on Monday as veteran Theatre Director Prasanna, Mysuru Book Clubs and Mysuru Literary Forum Charitable Trust Founder Shubha Sanjay Urs and theatre persons Neema & Indira Nair look on. Picture right shows artistes of Indian Institute of Educational Theatre staging the play 'Kuppalli Putta' on the occasion.

Mysuru, Sept. 6 (CN&BS)- Kannada and Culture Minister Shivaraj Tangadagi has opined, "There have been a number of theatre artistes in Northern part of the State too, who if encouraged further can be brought to the mainstream of the society. Hence, the Indian Institute of Educational Theatre, without restricting itself to Southern part of the State, should extend theatre education to Northern part too."

Minister Tangadagi came out with this opinion during the inauguration of Indian Institute of Educational Theatre, set up by Indian Theatre Foundation in association with Hardwicke PU College in the city, on Monday.

Minister Tangadagi released the poster of National Children's Theatre Festival organised from Sept. 19 to 24 at Mysuru, Bengaluru, Mandya and Chamarajanagar districts, and said: "Theatre plays a key role in awakening of the society. In this wake, it is our utmost responsibility to strengthen theatre and shall provide all the required help."

Theatre Director and Managing Trustee of Indian Theatre Foundation, Prasanna, said: "The Institute has begun with the assistance of the State Government and the posters of upcoming Children's Theatre Festival were released by the Minister. If the Government joins hands, the Institute will emerge as one of the best in the country."

Indian Institute of Educational Theatre is a first of its kind in the country, set up on a Public-Private-Partnership (PPP) model. Experts from within the country and abroad will take part in the deliberations. The upcoming Children's Theatre Festival costs Rs. 1.25 crore and Premji Foundation alone has contributed Rs. 25 lakh. Besides, various theatre artistes and general public are also doing their mite, with we ourselves sourcing half of the funds. The remaining half of the funds, should be borne by Kannada and Culture Department, appealed Prasanna.

Karnataka is the home of theatre in the country and Indian Institute of Educational Theatre wants to give a fillip to theatre activities. The present burden of learning should be made lighter for students, so that they will be encouraged towards active learning, said Prasanna.

The inaugural session was followed by staging of the play 'Kuppalli Putta' by the artistes of Indian Institute of Educational Theatre.

Theatre persons Neema and Indira Nair and Mysuru Book Clubs and Mysuru Literary Forum Charitable Trust Founder Shubha Sanjay Urs were present during the inaugural function.

'Rangayana has role in growth of art, literature and music'

Minister Shivaraj Tangadagi beating the drums to inaugurate Theatre Training Camps at Bhoomigeeta auditorium in Rangayana premises in city on Monday as others look on.

Mysuru, Sept. 6 (SPN&BS)- Kannada and Culture Minister Shivaraj Tangadagi has said, "Kannada and Culture Department and Rangayana, Mysuru, have enormously contributed to the growth of art, literature, music and other forms of arts."

Tangadagi addressed a gathering of theatre lovers during the inauguration of B.V. Karanth College Theatre Training Camp and Subbaiah Naidu and Padma Shri Nagarathnamma Amateur Theatre Training Camp, at Bhoomigeeta auditorium in Rangayana premises in city on Monday.

Rangayana, through various programmes like Bahuroopi National Theatre Festival, Chinnara Mela, Navaratri Rangotsava, College and Amateur Theatre Training Camps, Seminar, Exhibitions and Theatrical Experiments and several others, has been working towards the growth of art, literature, music and dance and other art forms, said Minister Tangadagi.

"I have received several suggestions during the interaction with writers and theatre persons for the development of theatre and to save Kannada land, water and language. The suggestions will be scrutinised and incorporated in Kannada and Culture Department. There is a pressure from several quarters over the appointment of a Director for Rangayana, Mysuru, who is pro-Development. The Director will be appointed soon in consultation with the Chief Minister," said Minister Tangadagi.

Rangayana Deputy Director Nirmala Mathapati has provided a complete information regarding the activities of Rangayana. That apart, Rangayana Joint Director V.N. Mallikarjunaswamy, who is also the Joint Director of Kannada and Culture Department, Regional Office, has also provided the details about the programmes. Following the invitation of Deputy Director to inaugurate Theatre Training Camps, I have made time despite my busy schedule. Besides, I am happy to be opportune to get a glimpse of theatre activities, holding the additional responsibility as Rangayana Director, said Minister Tangadagi.

"The Ilkal taluk in Bagalkot district, where I got my political birth, had a theatre troupe by name 'Sneha Ranga.' They were enacting 'Jo Kumaraswamy' play, which I was watching during my college days. With most of the artistes settled in Ilkal town, I too share interest for theatre," recalled Minister Tangadagi.

He (Minister Tangadagi) further said, "I have plans to organise Kanakagiri Cultural Festival at Kanakagiri Constituency that I represent in the Legislative Assembly. I will think over organising the Festival on a bigger scale after consulting the Department Officers. Also, a meeting regarding Dasara Cultural programmes will be convened soon, for the want of more information regarding the Dasara festivities."

Kannada and Culture Department Director Vishwanath P. Hiremath, veteran theatre person Venkataramana Aital, Camp Convener Arasikere Yoganand, senior artiste Sowmya Panaje and others were present.

WORD OF THE DAY

Preen

Pronunciation: PREEN.
Meaning: To preen is to make one's appearance neat and tidy or to behave or speak with obvious pride or self-satisfaction. In ornithology, preen means "to groom with the bill."
Origin: Preen hatched in 14th-century Middle English, and early on it displayed various spelling forms, including prenen, prayne, prene, and preyne. The word traces to the Anglo-French puroindre, or proindre, linking pur-, meaning "thoroughly," with uindre, oindre, meaning "to anoint or rub." One of the first writers known to apply preen to the human act of primping was Geoffrey Chaucer in The Canterbury Tales: "He preens himself and prunes and combs his curls / To take the fancy of this queen of girls." Centuries later (sometime during the late 19th century), the prideful meaning of preen took flight, joining bird-related verbs plume, which was being used with the meaning "to pride or congratulate (oneself)," and peacock, a word still used today to mean "to show off."
Example: "One day, I crossed the Nakdong River on foot, over a bridge connecting the neighborhood of Hadan to Eulsuk Island. That area, where the river meets the ocean, had been the site of the Nakdong Bulge, part of a monthlong battle in 1950. It is now an estuary for migrating birds and I thrilled at seeing a great egret preen on a glittering field of water." — E. Tammy Kim, The New Yorker, 6 Jan. 2023

PHRASE OF THE DAY

A penny saved is a penny earned

Meaning: The phrase 'A penny saved is a penny earned' means that it is as useful to save money that you already have as it is to earn more.
Origin: Almost everyone has heard of this famous expression and the origin of the phrase is well known – it comes from Benjamin Franklin's book, Poor Richard's Almanack. Interestingly, this successful series of books which was filled with advice, household hints, and amusing puzzles, also contained numerous witty phrases such as the one in question; like it, many of them are still in use today.
Example: "I'm going to give you $20, but I want you to put it in the bank; a penny saved is a penny earned!"

QUOTE BOX

Few people know so clearly what they want. Most people can't even think what to hope for when they throw a penny in a fountain. —Barbara Kingsolver
